

Calzadilla Syrah 2001

100% Syrah

Opaque black cherry with dark purple rim. Vibrant, luscious, crushed blackberry/blackcurrant cassis nose with soft hints of smokiness and leather. Very rich, full and velvety on the palate, great structure, fruit and oak well integrated, mouthful of blockbuster and intense fresh fruits of the forest with peppery and cinnamon background, long and glorious finish.

BODEGAS URIBES MADERO

The Estate of Uribes Madero is the result of the marriage and partnership of Francisco Uribes and Celia Madero. Francisco, an architect, runs the business and Celia, a pharmacist, is the oenologist. They are members of Grandes Pagos de Castilla. The wine is born and produced in a bucolic part of La Alcarria (Cuenca), an unknown land of woods, rivers and monasteries, and far away from the rules of a Denomination de Origin. The production of wine was typical of the region until phylloxera destroyed the vines in the 19th century. The Uribes Madero dream was to restore the vineyards and the tradition of winemaking to the area.
