The History

In 1920, Auguste MAUFRAS, acquired the estate, whose vineyard had an area of 50 hectares. During the war of 1940, property was neglected; and it was only in 1955 that Jean MAUFRAS, undertook the consolidation of the vineyard with noble grape varieties and the renovation of all the cellars and vats, to allow bottling at the chateau, whereas previously, the harvest was sold in barrels. From then on, the vinification was controlled by a confirmed oenologist, Emile Peynaud and then Athanase Fakorellis. Today, this monitoring is carried out by Thomas Duclos, since the purchase of the property by Les Domaines de Moncets.

THE GRAPE

TASTING NOTE

A complex bouquet, combining aromas of ripe black fruit (blackcurrant, blackberry) with toasty, spicy and slightly smoky notes, the signature of its controlled ageing. On the palate, the attack is supple and precise, carried by a lovely freshness. The dominant clay limestone terroir (80%) gives the wine firm structure and great depth, while the 20% sandy gravel adds elegance and tannic finesse. The balance between fruit, wood and minerality is harmonious. The long, lingering finish suggests
